

Chris Potts is a Certified Safety Professional (CSP) with more than 34 years of diverse safety, health, environment, security and leadership experience. He is currently the Director of Safety and Security for Perdue Agribusiness.

Prior to his work with Perdue, Chris was the Senior Manager of Environment, Health and Safety for Siemens Healthcare Diagnostics.

Before joining Siemens, Chris worked for the Boeing Co. for over 25 years in various positions of increasing responsibility.

Chris holds a bachelor of science degree in safety management from Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Chris and his wife, Deborah, live in Ocean View, Del.